TWO INJURED IN ACCIDENTS

Railroad Brakeman Loses Foot at New Oxford. Son of Jefferson Cassat Near Town, Shoots off his Toe.

I. R. Hartman, of York, a freight brakeman on the Western Maryland railroad met with a serious accident on Friday morning at New Oxford, which resulted in the loss of his left foot.

In an attempt to get on another car, while the train was in motion, his foot slipped, and he fell between the two cars. One wheel passed over the ankle of the left leg, crushing that member.

He was taken to Hanover, accompanied by Dr. J. L. Sheetz, of New Oxford, who gave preliminary treatment and afterwards taken to the York hospital, where his foot was amputated above the ankle.

Mr. Hartman is a single man, about 28 years of age.

The fourteen year old son of Jefferson Cassat, living a short distance north of town shot, off one of his toes while hunting a rabbit near his home. The rabbit was in a wood pile and the boy must have had the barrel of the gun resting on his foot for when it discharged it severed the toe, next to the little toe, almost as nicely as though it had been amputated by a surgeon. Dr. H. M. Hartman dressed the wound and the boy was later taken to the hospital at York in order that special precautions might be employed to guard against tetanus.

BIG AUTO DAMAGED

Harry Stahl's Large Automobile Damaged Near York.

Two wheels of the large American automobile of Harry E. Stahl of Lebanon, were broken off a short distance the other side of York Friday evening when his driver was endeavoring to avoid running into several confused bicyclists who were on both sides of the road. The wheels on the one side were broken when they ran against a trolley track, said to be several inches higher than the level of the road. No one was hurt. The car was towed into York about midnight. Mr. Stahl was on his way to Gettysburg to attend the Delaware football game. His car, painted orange and blue, is almost always on hand at all college athletic events.

MEADE STATUE

Still Contending for Additional Appropriation for Statue.

A committee of the Grand Army of the Republic of Pennsylvania, called upon Governor Tener Thursday for the purpose of securing an additional appropriation of $10,000 for the completion of the statue of Gen. George Meade, now being erected in Washington. Governor Tener favored the proposition that the State bear the entire expense of erecting a statue of the only Pennsylvanian commanding an army corps in the Civil War who had not been honored with a shaft in the national capital, and promised to recommend in his next message that the Legislature appropriate $10,000 for the completion of the statue, and $5,000 for additional expense.

The Mt. Holly Paper Company mills at Mt. Holly Springs, have been sold to E. M. Biddle, Esq., who purchased them for $25,000 representing the bond holders. There is a rumor that the mills will be operated but when and by whom is not known. There is also a report to the effect that the mills will be sold to the present machinery and be modernly equipped, put in such shape as to give the mills facilities for making paper of such character not manufactured in them before.

It may interest church, and other societies, to know that money can be made by saving old papers, magazines, etc. If members will send what they may have to the society's rooms, or some other designated place, so that a fair size quantity may accumulate at one point, one shipment may be made to Schmidt & Ault Paper Co., York, Pa., who will pay the highest cash price for same. Write or telephone for particulars. Advertisement.

STATE TO BRING VETERANS HERE

Pennsylvania after Long Delay, will Announce Free Transportation to Veterans Attending Battle Anniversary.

Civil War veterans in Pennsylvania will be greatly relieved when it is known that Governor Tener will soon issue a proclamation in which he will invite those old soldiers, now residing in the state, whom he desires to be the guests of the state at the fiftieth battle anniversary celebration, next year. They will be given free transportation from their homes to Gettysburg and return.

For months this matter has been hanging fire but at a recent meeting of the Battle Anniversary Commission and Governor Tener it was arranged that the above action be made known and those veterans who are justly entitled to be the guests of the state, so far as transportation is concerned, will be paid. The War Department will take care of them after they get here. Officials will be appointed to arrange all the details as to who are eligible and distribute the transportation.

The question of caring for the veterans once they get here is occupying much time and receiving much thought from those in charge of affairs. A number of the old soldiers do not relish the thought of the exposure incident to camp life and are endeavoring to secure accommodations in the town. This, as was to be expected, is found very difficult.

EAST BERLIN

East Berlin, Nov. 9.—The Sunday school convention held in the Lutheran church on Saturday and Sunday was well attended at all its sessions and many able addresses were made. Among those attending from a distance were P. A. Elmeser, York; Oliver Garret and George Wertz, Hanover; D. W. Snyder, Rossville; C. S. Reaser, Gettysburg, and the Rudisill male quartet, of Gettysburg, who sang at all the sessions. Rev. F. C. Sternat is holding a series of services in the Lutheran church to continue for two weeks after which communion will be celebrated on November 17.

The tenant house of Charles Anderson, of Heading township, was destroyed by fire on Sunday morning. Fire is supposed to be incendiary origin. The house was unoccupied but Harrison Kimmel, near Bermudian, had intended to move in the following day.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Deardorff, of Elmo, and Abram Myers, wife and daughter, of Abilene, Kansas, are visiting friends in the East. John Baer and wife, of Abilene, Kansas, were visitors at H. A. Phillips' a few days ago.

MANY PRESENT AT MONTHLY MEETING

High School Room Crowded for Regular Monthly Meeting of Parent Teachers' Association. Officers Elected.

The High School room was crowded on Friday evening for the regular monthly meeting of the Parent Teachers' Association, even the windows sills being used as seats. The attendance is attributed in part to keen rivalry among the pupils of the schools who work for possession of a banner given to the room whose children send the largest number of parents to the meeting.

Friday evening was the first time the scheme was tried and Miss Rose Scott's room received the coveted pennant. The other rooms were also well represented. The pennant is a red and white affair bearing the inscription "Home and School." It will remain in Miss Scott's room until the next meeting.

The annual election was held and resulted: president, Mrs. Wm. Arch McClean; vice president, Mrs. Edward A. Weaver; secretary, Miss Maud Miller; treasurer, J. E. Musselman.

The maintenance of the playgrounds again came in for some discussion and a committee consisting of W. D. Gilbert, J. Elmer Musselman and Rev. L. Dow Ott, was appointed to confer with a similar committee from the school board regarding the matter. One way of raising money suggested was to have a day each year in which all stores would be closed and the townspeople would spend the day at the playgrounds, refreshments and other things being offered for sale.

Mrs. R. C. Miller's report on the recent convention of the Mothers' Congress was read and a resolution was passed thanking all who contributed to the success of the meeting.

A balance of $33.75 was reported by the manual training committee, and a balance of $19.81 in the general treasury. The entertainment part of the program consisted of music by Dr. and Mrs. Henry Stewart, music by the High School orchestra, a reading by Miss Caroline Bream and a piano duet by Messrs. Quay and Culp. Prof. Burgoon made an address on "Reverence" and Dr. H. C. Alleman spoke briefly.

The next meeting will be held on Friday evening, December 6, when an illustrated lecture will be given by Miss Hendricks, representing the Women's Christian Temperance Union. The program committee is Miss Rummel, Mrs. True, and Mrs. J. H. Holtzworth.

After their approval the finance committee will order checks drawn.

Friday evening, November 15, has been chosen as the night for holding the Wilson demonstration here. It is expected to have a number of floats in the parade and to make out of it one of the old fashioned election-triumph affairs. A special effort will be made to have the people of the county come in and participate in the fun.

The management of William Collier who was to appear at the Hanover Opera House on Monday evening has cancelled the date.

CONSTANTINOPLE MAY SURRENDER

Negotiations For Capitulation Said to be Under Way.

EUROPEAN CRISIS IS NEAR

Collapse of the Turkish Empire Is Causing Grave Concern in Diplomatic Circles.

London, Nov. 9.—Informal negotiations for the surrender of Constantinople have been already entered on, according to the correspondent of the Vienna Reichspost, with the Bulgarian army.

He adds that the Bulgarians hope the fall of the Turkish line of forts at Tchatalja will be simultaneous with the taking of the fortress of Adrianople.

The correspondent adds that the Turkish troops have been repulsed from the principal points of the Tchatalja line, the fall of which is expected immediately. The Turkish advance posts on the right wing opposite the fort of Dellyunus have been captured already by the Bulgarian troops belonging to the third column, and these forts form excellent bases for pushing home attacks on the other lines.

The Greek army, commanded by Crown Prince Constantine, occupied Salonika, the Turkish stronghold in southwestern Turkey in Europe.

The imminent fall of Constantinople puts the crisis up to the powers. The threatened rupture between Austria-Hungary and Serbia on the question of Servian access to the Adriatic sea and the immensity of numerous other political quicksands caused by the collapse of Turkey are causing grave concern in diplomatic circles in Paris.

At the moment when an intimate accord is more desirable than ever before, it is pointed out that the two groups of European nations, as the triple alliance and the triple entente, which together comprise the so-called concert of Europe, find themselves badly out of tune and arrayed in hostile camps.

With Russia leading, France and England are inclined to support the Servian claims on which Austria-Hungary, encouraged by Germany and Italy, apparently has placed a direct veto.

Among other bustling international difficulties are the compensation that Roumania will demand as an offset to the aggrandizement of Bulgaria, the future standing of the Dardanelles, Constantinople, Salonika and Turkey in Asia, the fate of the islands in the Aegean sea, the regime to be introduced in Albania and the adjustment of the conflicting Austrian and Italian special claims there in such a way that other powers shall not be prejudiced.

Apart from all these visible controversies comes the news of the proclamation of a Russian protectorate over Chinese territory equal in extent to one-third of the whole of Europe.

Russia has taken a step which is likely to cause further uneasiness by keeping the time-expired soldiers of her army with their regiments during the winter, which means that her army will be on a war footing till next year.

Bulgaria has no intention of remaining in Constantinople. The Bulgarian troops will, however, go to the Turkish capital.

Kiamli Pasha, the aged grand vizier, will doubtless make a determined diplomatic effort to save Constantinople for his country. In fact, a German paper publishes a dispatch from Sofia which says that Kiamli Pasha has already approached Bulgaria direct to begin negotiations for peace.

T. R. MAY GET CALIFORNIA

Wilson Plurality Drops 81 Votes and Progressives Increased by 200.

San Francisco, Nov. 9.—With about 100 small precincts yet to be heard from, Roosevelt's plurality over Wilson in California stood at 711.

The complete vote of Monterey county increased the previous Progressive plurality by 200 votes, while nineteen scattered precincts in Shasta county cut down the Wilson plurality by eighty-one votes.

Late reports Thursday night gave Wilson a lead, which has been constantly decreasing since then.

Unless the proportionate gain in the precincts of Wilson counties yet to be heard from shows a decided increase, Roosevelt probably has carried the state by a narrow margin.

Kill Big Revolutionist.

Tezucigalpa, Honduras, Nov. 9.—General Jose Maria Valladares, the noted revolutionist, who in years past has caused much trouble to the governments of Honduras and Nicaragua, has fomented his last uprising. He was killed by government troops in a skirmish near Ojojona, his native town, which lies twenty-five miles southwest of Tezucigalpa.

Shot Away Cousin's Arm.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Nov. 10.—Henry Stewart fired both barrels of a shotgun at a low flying flock of ducks in the lower gorge of the Niagara river. Instead of bringing down the ducks the shot carried away the right arm of his cousin, James Stewart, who was standing nearby. It was necessary to amputate the arm near the shoulder.

RUSH U. S. CRUISERS TO TURKISH WATERS

To Afford Refuge to Americans in War Zone.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Two big armored cruisers of the United States, the Tennessee and the Montana, have been given rush orders to proceed to Turkish waters, to look after the interests of American citizens.

The vessels are now in reserve at the League Island navy yard, Philadelphia, the Tennessee being the flagship of Rear Admiral Austin M. Knight. They should be ready to sail within twenty-four hours, and under ordinary conditions should reach Constantinople about Nov. 25, if they proceed with dispatch.

Full complements of marines will be carried by the two cruisers. Orders were issued for assembling the required number at Philadelphia. From the Norfolk navy yard 400 marines will be drawn. They will go by special train to Philadelphia.

The first disposition of the state department had been to refrain from sending any American warships to the Bosphorus, because their appearance might be taken as an evidence of American participation in the great political questions involved in the Balkan war and its settlement; and because so rapid has been the progress of the war that probably the ships could not reach Constantinople in time to be of any service.

BOY KILLED BY COMRADES

Shot Between the Eyes While Loading the Gun.

Seranton, Pa., Nov. 9.—Carrying rifles, Frank Wahl and Tommy Jerome, ten years old, of Olyphant, started for a field to bring home the cows.

They took along Johnny Jerome, seven years old, and when they entered the field they put in twenty minutes shooting at a target.

The boys got into a debate as to their respective ability at loading the guns, and during the demonstration one of the rifles was discharged and a bullet struck Johnny Jerome between the eyes. He never spoke again. He was carried home by his pals and died two hours later.

The boys could not explain which one's gun was discharged. Investigation has satisfied the authorities that the shooting was accidental.

JOHNSON'S BAIL BAD; SENT TO JAIL

His Bondsman For $30,000 Unsatisfactory.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—Jack Johnson, the champion heavy-weight pugilist of the world, occupies a cell in the county jail, due to his failure to furnish a $30,000 bond satisfactory to the court for his release on a charge of violating the Mann white slave act.

Previously Johnson had spent a number of hours in the company of United States marshal while in and sought in vain to secure bonds satisfactory to the court.

Unusual precautions were taken by the United States attorney in examining the signatures on Johnson's proffered bond when Judge Landis was asked to accept it.

Besides Mrs. Tiny Johnson, the pugilist's mother, there appeared the names of Albert C. Jones and "Tony" May. May said that he was to get $200 for appearing as bondsman, and when he admitted that he already was on a number of municipal court bonds Judge Landis refused to accept him.

Albert C. Jones, who attempted to qualify a son of the pugilist's bondsman, was held in $10,000 bail on a charge of perjury after it had been shown that he had scheduled property which under the name of "A. Charles Jones" he previously had deeded to his wife.

Catherine Dorsey, at whose home the young white girl, Lucille Cameron, lived for several weeks, was arrested. She had been hiding in a barn for three weeks. She was held under a $5,000 bond as a witness in the Johnson case and also was remanded to the marshal's custody.

United States Attorney Wilkerson said that the federal investigation of Johnson's relations with white women had "only begun."

NEGRO SLAYER A SUICIDE

Mystery Surrounds Double Tragedy in Schenectady, N. Y.

Schenectady, N. Y., Nov. 9.—A negro known as "Sandy" Williams, supposed to be from Canton, O., and said to be known in Philadelphia as "Diamond Dick," enticed Louis Desale, a young white man, eighteen years old, into a cold storage room of the Wellton cafe, this city, and killed him with a pistol shot.

Williams also shot and killed himself. There is no known reason for the crime.

Was Insured For $122,000.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 9.—Cornelius Brierly, a prominent business man of Homestead, who was killed by a railroad train Wednesday night at Claysville, carried $122,000 worth of life insurance, payable to his wife and to his parents.

WOMAN SLAIN AND HOME FIRED

VISITOR ACCUSED OF CRIME

Man Seen Coming From Direction of Farm Shortly Before Fire Was Discovered, Is Held.

Salisbury, Md., Nov. 9.—The Rayne farm house, about one mile from Powellville, Md., a small village in the eastern part of Wicomico county, was the scene of a murder, when some one entered the building and crushed in the skull of Mrs. Laura Rayne, the lone occupant of the house, and then, in the hope of hiding the crime, set fire to the dwelling.

Benjamin T. Davis, a resident of Powellville, has been arrested and charged with the crime.

About five o'clock in the morning smoke was seen pouring from the windows of the Rayne home by neighbors, and upon reaching the house they found a pile of wood in the center of the kitchen, which had been saturated with kerosene and then ignited. Near the burning mass was the form of Mrs. Rayne, apparently dead, with the top of her skull crushed in.

When the neighbors attempted to move the body they found Mrs. Rayne was still alive and she managed to say "Don't." Medical aid was quickly summoned, but when Dr. Lawrence Freeny, of Pitsville, arrived he pronounced her dead.

A short time prior to the discovery of the smoke coming from the Rayne house, Davis, who is now under arrest, was seen coming from the direction of the Rayne home, with a gun under his arm. Suspicion quickly pointed to him. It was alleged that he caused the separation of Mrs. Rayne and her husband some months ago, and has since been a frequent visitor at the house. Warrants were sworn out for his arrest.

After some searching by Sheriff Smith, Davis was discovered at Willards, a small town about six miles from the scene of the murder. He was arrested, and on being arraigned he pleaded not guilty. He was held under $3,000 bail for court.

Mrs. Rayne, the murdered woman, was about forty years old, and had been married twice. About six years ago she married Lemuel Rayne, a prosperous farmer, with whom she lived until two months ago, when the couple separated. Her first husband was Noah Clark, of Wicomico county.

Davis is a widower and has been engaged in the mercantile business near Powellville. About two years ago he was arrested and convicted of illicit selling of liquor and sentenced to six months in the Maryland penitentiary.

TALKS AT FOUR MONTHS

Georgia's Baby Prodigy Also Can Stand Without Aid.

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 9.—In their four-months-old daughter, Lula Eliza Beth, Mr. and Mrs. Allen W. Townsend, of Waycross, have a child prodigy.

The little one can stand alone and is able to enunciate simple words so that they are distinguishable. The baby can call her father and mother, and makes her wants known when not more than one or two words are involved.

At the age of three months the baby could sit alone without support of any kind. The child is regarded as a wonder, and especially her linguistic qualities. No particular effort has been made to train her in this direction. Her ability to stand and take a few steps also came naturally.

IRATE HUSBAND SEEKS MARQUARD

Trap Star Pitcher and Actress in Atlantic City.

WARRANTS CUT FOR TWO

While Husband and Detectives Were Waiting to Make Arrests They Escaped Down Fire Escape.

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 9.—"Rube" Marquard, star twirler of the New York Glanis, and Mrs. Joseph Kane, known on the stage as Blossom Seeley, are being sought by detectives, warrants having been sworn out for them by Mrs. Kane's husband. Both are accused of serious offenses.

The warrants were issued by Magistrate Jagmetty after a lively scene in one of the big beach front hotels. The husband of the woman and his detectives declare they caught the "Rube" and Mrs. Kane together, but that they escaped down a fire escape by means of a ruse.

Kane says that he booked the pair in an act known as "The Nineteenth Street; or, Breaking the World's Record," a skit based on Rube's pitching during the past season. The irate husband displayed a contract by which Marquard and Blossom were to be paid $1500 a week. For arranging their booking Kane was to receive $100 a week.

"I was tipped off by friends that it was not a business proposition that was keeping them together," the husband declared. Getting word from Atlantic City that Rube and Blossom Seeley were at the shore, Kane hurried to Philadelphia, got his detectives and then came to Atlantic City.

The two detectives went out on the Boardwalk and scoured around in one direction, while Kane went in another. The detectives in affidavits sworn to before Magistrate Jagmetty describe their movement from then on. Hanging around the hotel they managed to get a glimpse of the register.

"We discovered that on Nov. 4 'Rube' Marquard and wife' had registered." This was in Marquard's handwriting, the detectives say.

About 8 o'clock Marquard and Mrs. Kane appeared coming down in the elevator from a well suite on the first floor overlooking the ocean. We followed them down the walk to the Apollo theater and then waited in the back of the theater, watching them. They were certainly a loving couple, keeping huddled close up to one another in their orchestra seats.

"At 10:30 they came out together, took a rolling chair and went up the Boardwalk to a cafe, where they stayed until about 12:30. Then they strolled back to the hotel and went in the elevator together. We were up at the occupied by them and then called up Mr. Kane, who came down to the hotel. He came up to our room. We could hear 'Rube' and Mrs. Kane chatting away next door.

"We hurried into the hall, and making sure there was no way of escape except by the door, we attacked and rushed the door. For five minutes we shouldered into it and it finally gave way."

Here the husband broke in on the detective's narrative. "When the door went in and I was the first to get inside they were not in sight. I looked under the bed. Huddled far back against the wall on the far side was Mrs. Kane. A sound attracted me to ward the closet.

"Jumping across the room, I pulled the door open. There was 'Rube' back in the corner, shaking like an aspen leaf. He was trying to hide behind an overcoat. 'Come out, you big coward,' I demanded. He refused to budge, so the officers dragged him out. There he stood in the center of the room, trembling, his face ashen, unable to speak; back of him, under the bed, protruded the frightened face of my wife."

Then Kane and his detectives left the room, preparatory to arranging for the arrest of the two. When they returned the room was empty. "Rube" and Mrs. Kane having disappeared from the hotel by means of the fire escape and a waiting taxicab, in which they hurried away.

Drowns in Delirium.

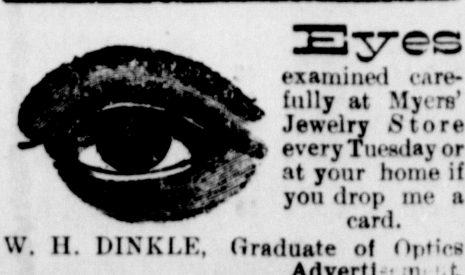

Hitchhiker, N. J., Nov. 9.—In a delirious fancy that he had again the cries of a boy whom he rescued from the Shrewsbury river recently, Felix Felford broke from his sick bed and plunged into the stream. His body was found near the spot where he had made the rescue. Felford's delirium came with pneumonia which he contracted in saving the boy's life.

Hatpin Deadly Weapon.

Atlantic City, N. J., Nov. 9.—That the hatpin is a deadly weapon was the ruling of Recorder Keffer. He imposed a fine of $250 on Mary Clark, who drew one on Samuel Clark, her husband, and threatened to use it. "Hatpins are very dangerous, more so than some revolvers," said the recorder, without a smile.

High Jump to Pay Bet.

Woodbury, N. J., Nov. 9.—Thomas Taylor, a negro, bet on Taft. He said he'd jump off the roof of a house if the president lost the election. He jumped. He will live.

CORN CROP BREAKS WORLD'S RECORD

Country's Production 3,169,137,000 Bushels.

Washington, Nov. 9.—A corn crop of 3,169,137,000 bushels, or 281,921,000 bushels more than the greatest crop of corn ever grown in any country of the world, is the feature of the country's most remarkable agricultural year in history, according to the November crop report of the United States department of agriculture.

This great crop of corn was worth on Nov. 1 to farmers $1,850,773,000. The acre yield was 21.3 and quality 101.1.

The enormous sum of $4,171,134,000 represented the farm value on Nov. 1 of the United States crops of corn, hay, wheat, oats, potatoes, barley, flaxseed, rye and buckwheat. With the value of the growing cotton crop and the crops of tobacco, rice and apples, the aggregate value of these principal farm products will amount to well beyond $5,000,000,000.

Upon the preliminary estimates of production and prices announced, the value of the crops figure out as follows: Corn, $1,850,773,000; hay, $854,615,000; wheat, $603,039,000; oats, $476,169,000; potatoes, $188,501,000; barley, $120,845,000; flaxseed, $33,633,000; rye, $24,370,000; buckwheat, $12,526,000.

Record crops of corn, potatoes, flaxseed, oats, barley, rye and hay were harvested this year. The government's official estimates of the value of the various crops and its final estimates of total production will be announced in December.

City Adopts Single Tax.

Everett, Wash., Nov. 9.—The single tax amendment to the city charter was adopted at Tuesday's election by a vote of 2 to 1. Everett, the fourth city in size in Washington, is the first city in the United States to adopt this method of taxation.

THE VANISHED MILLIONAIRE

"Have you ever heard of a 'priest's hole'?" he whispered. "In the days when Meudon Hall was built, no country house was without its hiding-place. Protestants and priests, Royalists and Republicans, they all used the secret burrow at one time or another."

"How did he get in?"

"That is what we are here to discover; and as I have no wish to destroy Mr. Ford's old oak panels I think our simplest plan will be to wait until he comes back again."

The shadows leapt upon us as Peace extinguished the light he carried. The great window alone was luminous with the faint starlight that showed the tracery of its ancient stonework; for the rest, the darkness hedged us about in impenetrable barriers. Side by side, we stood by the wall in which we knew the secret entrance must exist.

It may have been ten minutes or more when from the distance—somewhere below our feet, or so it seemed to me—there came the faint echo of a closing door. It was only in such cold silence that we could have heard it. The time ticked on. Suddenly, upon the black of the floor, there shone a thin reflection like the slash of a sword—a reflection that grew into some twelve feet long by seven broad. Upon a mattress at the further end lay a man, gagged and bound. As the light fell upon his features Ransom sprang forward, shouting his name.

"Stas Ford, by thunder!"

With eager fingers we loosened the gag and cut the ropes that bound his wrists. He sat up, turning his long, thin face from one to the other of us as he stretched the cramp from his limbs.

"Thank you, gentlemen," said he. "Well, Ransom, how are things?"

"Bad, sir; but it's not too late." He nodded his head, passing his hands through his hair with a quick, nervous movement.

"You've caught my clever friend, I see. Kindly go through his pockets, will you? He has something I must ask him to return to me."

We found it in Jackson's pocket-book—a cheque, antedated a week, for five thousand pounds, with a covering letter to the manager of the bank. Ford took the bit of stamped paper, twisting it to and fro in his supple fingers.

"It was smart of you, Jackson," he said, addressing the bowed figure before him. "I give you credit for the idea. To kidnap a man just as he was bringing off a big deal—well, you would have earned the money."

"But how did you get down here?" struck in the manager.

"He told me that he had discovered an old hiding-place—a 'priest's hole' he called it, and I walked into the trap as the best man may do sometimes. As we got to the bottom of that stairway he slipped a sack over my head, and had me fixed in thirty seconds. He fed me himself twice a day, standing by to see I didn't holler. When I paid up he was to have twenty-four hours' start; then he would let you know where I was. I held out awhile, but I gave in tonight. The delay was getting too dangerous. Have you a cigarette, Harbord? Thank you. And who may you be?"

It was to the detective he spoke. "My name is Peace, Inspector Addington Peace, from Scotland Yard." "And I owe my rescue to you?" The little man bowed.

"You will have no reason to regret it. And what did you think had become of me, Inspector?"

"It was the general opinion that you had taken to yourself wings, Mr. Ford."

It was as we traveled up to town next day that Peace told me his story. I will set it down as briefly as may be.

"I soon came to the conclusion that Ford, whether dead or alive, was inside the grounds of Meudon Hall. If he had bolted, for some reason, by-the-way, which was perfectly incomprehensible, a man of his ability would not have left a broad trail across the center of his lawn for all to see. There was, moreover, no trace of him that our men could ferret out at any station within reasonable distance. A motor was possible, but there were no marks of its presence next morning in the slush of the roads. That fact I learnt from a curious groom who had added in the search, and who, with a similar idea upon him, had carefully examined the highway at daybreak."

"When I clambered to the top of the wall I found that the snow upon the coping had been dislodged. I traced the marks, as you saw, for about a dozen yards. Where they ended, I too, dropped to the ground outside. There I made a remarkable discovery. Upon a little drift of snow that lay in the shallow ditch beneath were those of Ford. They were not those of Ford. They were the marks of long and narrow boots, and led into the road, where they were lost in the track of a flock of sheep that had been driven over it the day before.

"I took a careful measurement of those footprints. They might, of course, belong to some private investigator; but they gave me an idea. Could some man have walked across the lawn in Ford's boots, changed them to his own on the top of the wall, and so departed? Was it the desire of some one to let it be supposed that Ford had run away?"

"When I examined Ford's private rooms I was even more fortunate. From the bootbox I discovered that the master had three pairs of shooting-boots. There were three pairs in the stand. Some one had made a very serious mistake. Instead of hiding the pair he had used on the lawn, he had returned them to their place. The trick was becoming evident. But where was Ford? In the house or grounds, dead or alive, but where?

"I was able, through my friend the bootbox, to examine the boots on the night of our arrival. My measurements corresponded with those that Jackson, the valet, wore. Was he acting for himself, or was Harbord, or even Ransom, in the secret? That, too, it was necessary to discover before I showed my hand."

"Your story of Harbord's midnight excursion supplied a clue. The secretary had evidently followed some man who had disappeared mysteriously. Could there be the entrance to a secret chamber in that corridor? That would explain the mystification of Harbord as well as the disappearance of Stas Ford. If so Harbord was not involved.

"If Ford were held a prisoner he must be fed. His gaoler must of necessity remain in the house. But the trap I set in the suggested journey to town was an experiment singularly unsuccessful, for all the three men I desired to test refused. However, if I were right about the secret chamber I could checkmate the blackmailer by keeping a watch on him from your room, which commanded the line of communications. But Jackson was clever enough to leave his vittuals to the night-time. I scattered the flour to try the result of that ancient trick. It was successful. That is all. Do you follow me?"

"Yes," said I; "but how did Jackson come to know the secret hiding-place?"

"He has long been a servant of the house. You had better ask his old master."

THE KITCHEN CABINET

YOU GIVE your coffee to the cat. You stroke the dog for coming. And all your face grows kinder at The little brown bee's humming."

—E. B. Browning.

Chop cold roast lamb, season with salt and put into a buttered baking dish; cover with a cup of seasoned cooked macaroni. Beat three eggs slightly, add a cup and a half of milk, pour over the mixture and bake in a slow oven.

Hot Potato Salad.—Cook two cups of half-inch cubes of potatoes; drain and pour over the following dressing: Mix together a half cup of celery cut fine, two slices of lemon, two tablespoonfuls of chopped onion, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, four tablespoonfuls of olive oil, pepper and salt to taste. Heat until boiling hot and serve at once.

Water Melon Balls.—Any water melon that is left over may be scooped out into balls, using a vegetable cutter, or if this is not at hand a tablespoon will do, making oval-shaped pieces. Chill and serve very cold.

Hasty Blueberry Pudding.—Butter four or five slices of bread on both sides, place in individual sauce dishes, grate a little nutmeg over the slices and pour over canned berries that have been heated hot.

When preserving peaches, use the broken pieces that are not perfect enough, for a spiced sauce. Add vinegar, spices and brown sugar and cook until of the right consistency.

When there is a little cold chicken, but not enough for a dish, add an equal quantity of cold boiled ham, both chopped fine. Mix together with a rich, well-seasoned white sauce and serve on buttered toast as a luncheon or supper dish.

Any combination of cold meat may be used with the sauce, varying the flavor by using chopped green peppers or onions.

Reverend Mother to Educate Him In Order to Increase His Trust Fund.

New York, Nov. 9.—John Jacob Astor, infant son of Mrs. Madeline Force Astor, will have an allowance of $3333 a year for his support during the next three years.

Surrogate Fowler granted a petition filed by Mrs. Astor to this effect and appointed Mrs. Astor as the child's guardian, with limited authority until he reaches the age of fourteen years. Mrs. Astor herself became of age only a few weeks ago.

In her petition Mrs. Astor said she wanted the income of her child's $3,000,000 trust fund to accumulate until the boy attained his majority, and that until then she intended to support and educate him. The boy was born last August.

WINS BRIDE ON ELECTION

Acceptance by Woman Depended Upon Wilson's Success.

Berwick, Pa., Nov. 9.—The election of Woodrow Wilson as president was directly responsible for the marriage at Scranton of John H. Bardoe, a Berwick merchant, to Mrs. William Cook, of Berwick.

Leaving Berwick early on Tuesday morning, Bardoe announced to his intimate friends that in the event Wilson, whose enthusiastic partisan he was, being elected, he would return to Berwick with a bride.

In the event he lost he would remain a bachelor, the woman of his choice having named those conditions. Rev. Griffith Bull, of Scranton, performed the ceremony.

NORTH DAKOTA LYCHING

Duluth, Minn., Nov. 9.—George Baker, who killed his wife and her father, Thomas Glass, at Dawson, Kidder county, North Dakota, two weeks ago, was quietly taken from the jail at Steele, N. D., the county seat, by citizens and hanged.

Kicks Way Out of Cell.

Pittston, Pa., Nov. 9.—The strongest tell in the city prison here was not strong enough to keep Michael Liski, thirteen years old, prisoner. He kicked out the side of his cell in the jail and opened a way to freedom. Liski was arrested, charged with stealing a horse and carriage from a livery stable and riding to Tunkhannock and West Pittston, where he collided with an auto.

Woman to Head Progressive Electors.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 9.—Mrs. Helen B. Scott, of Tacoma, whose name a presidential elector was at the top of the victorious Progressive ticket, probably will be chairman of the Washington electors, who will cast seven votes for Theodore Roosevelt in the electoral college. She is the only woman on the state ticket to be elected.

One of the most striking figures seen on the English stage in recent years is the Drain-Man, the elementary and primitive being in "The Servant in the House", the sensational success of the play by Charles Rann Kennedy, which is to be presented at the Wizard Theatre on Tuesday evening, Nov. 13 by Victor E. Lambert and one of the most perfectly balanced acting organizations now in extant in this country.

Finding Out.

"Father, is it true that two can live as cheap as one?"

"That's an old saying, my dear."

"Do you believe it?"

"I think it can be done."

"Prize fighting is a brutal sport."

"I don't think so," replied the man who always disagrees. "The prize fighter sets a fine example. He refuses to fight unless he gets $30,000 or $40,000, while most men are liable to get huffy and want to fight for nothing."

DO YOU ENJOY EATING

Or Does Everything You Eat Distress You.

Experts declare that the reason stomach disorders are so common in this country is due to hasty and careless habits of eating. Stomach troubles and run-down conditions also usually go together.

John Lind, of Oneonta, N. Y., says:

"I had a bad stomach trouble for fifteen years and became so weak that I could hardly walk or do any work. My appetite was very poor, and it seemed impossible to get any relief. Since taking two bottles of Vinol I find that it has already made a remarkable improvement in my health, my digestion is much stronger, and I have gained in weight."

Vinol makes weak stomachs strong because it strengthens and tones up the weakened, tired and overtaxed nerves of the digestive organs. Vinol is easily assimilated by the weakest stomachs, and is delicious to the taste.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you. People's Drug Store, Gettysburg, Pa.

A City Store Stock Of Dry Goods, Carpets, Ready to Wear Goods

More than twenty-seven years ago we began business here in a small store room and with a small stock—Business and Stock grew almost phenomenally from the start, because the foundation of this business of ours was laid in Truthfulness of Representation. Our clientele soon found that only goods that were reliable were to be had from us.

We have built on these foundations all these years, keeping the confidence of the community, gained when we came here first.

We have a store or aggregation of goods each season worth writing or talking about, but only through actual knowledge can one arrive at proper conclusions, so call at our store, take time to investigate or examine our stock.
